WE TRY TO BE TRUTHFUL.

It has been said by certain people that a certain news item and statement of facts published by us last week, was not correct, and it has even been said that the article was purposely colored, biased and misstated. We are sorry that anyone should think so harshly of us. In all our newspaper career, which extends over many years, we have always regarded the truth as paramount, and we have never purposely made a false statement. We have never fawned at the feet of any man or set of men and have never catered to any class for the purpose of currying favor. We have always considered that we were getting out a newspaper for all the people and that our duty was to all the people. We frequently suppress certain kinds of "news" or "never mention it," because we feel that it is best, but if we give publicity to it at all, we state the facts, just as near as the facts can be learned, no matter who it hurts or who it displeases. Possibly there may be times when we do not learn the real facts and in cases of that kind we have always been the gentleman to make the proper corrections, not through fear or favor, but as a matter of newspaper ethics. When it is claimed that we made a false statement, and no evidence is brought to our attention to the contrary, we naturally presume that our statement is correct, and it will stand.
Anyone who knows us knows this---know that we stand by the truth and that our statements have NEVER been successfully contradicted. This paper carries the banner for the last word, and that last word the truth, yet we have never declined to make a correction, when necessary.

A FOOLISH THING.

The new postoffice law that was to go into effect Sunday was not heeded at the St. Louis postoffice, for the reason that the postmaster there wants to know more about the law. The postmaster-general has been interthat is actually doing more business than some of the larger houses, and this little store (Spencer & Stubbs) has increased its advertising space from the start. They will soon move into their new brick, where they will open one of the most up-to-date stores in town.

"THE OPEN ROAD."

—From New York World

In his speech at Sen. Giff. N. J., on June 17, Governor Wilson pointed out that, as the result of so many years of Republican administration, the feeling throughout the nation is that "men have gone in blind alleys and have had to climb out often enough. Now they propose to find an open road for themselves." preting the law, and likely when he gets through it will not be recognizable. The law closes all 1st and 2nd class postoffices on Sunday, and consists of an amendment to the appropriation bill by Senator Mann of Illinois.

The fact that the nature of the amendment was not noticed and that it received the president's signature and became a law before the discovery was made, shows what a blooming lot of idiots the people have sent to Washington.

The law was not asked for by the postoffice department, and came as a surprise to them. It was asked for by the postal employes throughout the country, who ran all over themselves to get the jobs, and now want to shirk their duty.

The object of the law is said to be to give postal employes Sunday. In that case, why not put on a Sunday force, or let the pay be sufficient to cover the Sunday hours. Millions of other people are laboring on Sundays, on the railroads, street car lines, in the hotels, restaurants and other places, for the benefit of the general public---and the mail for all the people is just as important. Instead of inconveniencing the general public, it might be better to fire a few lazy employes and employ people who are not afraid to work.

Portageville is now without a newspaper, not through any fault of the town, but because their newspaper man was an adventurer and never stays in one place long. Portageville is one of the best newspaper towns to its size in this part of the state.
The merchants are good advertisers, and there is a good country to draw from. That city deserves and should have a first-class newspaper, and in order to get one, should carefully investigate a newspaper man before letting him get in. There are plenty of good men, looking for good places, and towns like Portageville should look for some one with stickability.

The whole spring and summer has passed, and not a large merchant in the city has done any special advertising; yet there is one little 2x4 store that was started only a few months ago,

If you intend to stop your paper, please do so promptly, and pay up what you owe. It is not right to take the paper three to twelve months and then refuse to pay for it.
